1 [I find history being repeated without proper use of wisdom or intelligence of past and present Nuclear Governmental projects concerning projects and now especially with Yucca Mountain Repository Project.

I understand the environmental and human impact studies and reports from inter/outer agencies have and will be adjusted to conform to acceptable perimeters to continue these projects without prejudice.

Millions of American and especially foreign currencies and efforts have already and will continue to fund these projects and many more like them with special interests planning whether domestic or abroad whether in the Americans? best interests local to the project or not.

Programs by the American Government should be considered for the people and by the people not by those whom are capable of benefiting at the cost of the American people (citizens or not). The American Government at present seems to be more concerned with other countries' possible future threats of nuclear use or other dangers (they have the similar/same project studies) whether power, waste, or weapons.

Many governments simply ignore their own country's use or misuse of the similar or worst dangers thereof. That is not and should not be our great government's considered use or policies. The use of the controlled predetermined and/or the negotiated study results and testing including gathering intelligence deemed right or wrong, correct or incorrect, original or tainted will only result in unsolvable problems or God forbid- disasters.

We have observed the very same in other countries and on our own soil, sands, waters, and mountains as well. I am sure we all would like to avoid any problems or disasters seen or unforeseen (except for our enemies of course).

Where does that put the persons pushing foreword without regard for our environment or fellow people? There are, have been, and will always be many red flags popping up without being addressed correctly and intelligently. National security is very important, but with problematic projects underway without proper use of our knowledge and intelligence has and will lead to terrible mistakes, errors, omissions and even avoidable disasters.

We can avoid and change undesirable outcomes because that is why the United States of America is the great democratic leader and country it is today and will continue to be that way forever under God.

If only we could have the wisdom, intelligence, integrity, and especially the great and wise foresight as our forefathers and mothers did. Notice I am including everyone today because of the people for the people not of the persons by the persons!

Only the powerful few seem to be close-minded and nearsighted with blinders on looking at what is best for the few and their wallets and purses while sweeping the rest of the issues under the rug (mountain) with no regard for the future of our planet and it's inhabitant's health, well-being, even death. There fore I am against the Yucca Mountain Repository as the current project underway any others similarly fashioned or forced without regard to any American or fellow human being and as a Local American Citizen for the well being of all persons worldwide.]

Very Sincerely,
John A. McDannald
